Every year, on 28th of February, India celebrates National Science Day to commemorate the discovery of the 'Raman Effect' by the renowned Indian physicist, Dr. C. V. Raman. This groundbreaking discovery was officially announced on 28th February 1928 and it led to Dr. Raman being awarded the Nobel Prize in Physics in 1930, a historic achievement that made him the first Indian to receive a Nobel Prize in a scientific field. National science day serves as a dedicated occasion for the promotion of scientific knowledge, discovery, and innovation.

On honor of this significant day, the Mathematics and Statistics department organized a quiz competition, aiming to engage students and science enthusiasts in a fun and educational activity. The event aimed to foster a deeper appreciation for science and its contributions to society.

The quiz competition witnessed enthusiastic participation from students across various faculties, with a total 315 students representing different districts of Maharashtra. The competition was conducted using a standard format, featuring multiple-choice questions presented through an online platform in the form of Google form. The questions were thoughtfully crafted to encompass a wide spectrum of scientific disciplines, including physics, chemistry, biology, mathematics, and environmental science. The C. V. Raman Quiz Competition emerged as a remarkable event that celebrated the spirit of scientific inquiry and knowledge-sharing. It served as a platform for students and science enthusiasts to showcase their passion for science and learn from one another. The competition not only marked the significance of science day but also inspired future generations to pursue careers in science and contribute to the advancement of human knowledge.
